OIL SCANDAL MAY BE UP IN COURTS SOON

FEDERAL GRAND JURY IS TO BE DRAWN SOON, SAID

TO CONSIDER EVIDENCE OF CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY IN OIL SCANDAL

INDICTMENTS SOUGHT AGAINST THREE PERSONS AS PRINCIPALS

Congress Today By United Press

Senate: Considers Norris constitutional amendment. Daugherty investigating committee continues. Teapot Dome committee investigation continues. House: Vote on bonus bill.

Washington, March 18.—A federal grand jury will be empaneled here within two weeks, to consider evidence of criminal conspiracy in the oil scandal, it was learned today.

Indictments are to be sought against three persons as principals, and several others will be involved as alleged accomplices.

Grand jury action is to begin shortly after the return from the west of Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special presidential counsel, who have now put under way civil suits for cancellation of the Teapot Dome and California naval oil reserve leases to Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny.

Charges of conspiracy to defraud the government and of bribery, set forth in the petition for cancellation, will form the foundation of the government's criminal proceedings.

Prosecuting of criminal charges need not necessarily await the result of the civil suits, it was pointed out here today, as the cases involved in the criminal cases will not be affected by the court's decision as to the validity or illegality of the leases themselves.

Eminent counsel today said that even if the leases were held technically within the law, criminal prosecution could proceed if it could be shown that a conspiracy was entered into to violate laws in order to get the leases or if bribery was resorted to.

BOARD TO ADMINISTER NAVAL OIL RESERVES

Washington, March 18.—A national board of five officers today was detailed to formulate plans for administering the naval oil reserves if they are returned to the government as a result of the cancellation suits just started.

"Strictest conservation of the navy's oil," is to be the basis of the new program, acting Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt announced in making public the names of the officers detailed to draw up the plans.

MELLON, WEEKS TO BE SUBPOENAED

Washington, March 18.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon and Secretary of War Weeks were included in a new batch of subpoenas, issued today by the senate committee investigating Attorney General Daugherty.

Mellon will be given an opportunity to reply to charges made before the committee by Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent. Means testified that he made an "under cover investigation" of Mellon's alleged connection with the liquor deals in New York City.

"We caught Mellon," Means said. Weeks is expected to testify in connection with the aircraft cases in which Means testified under oath that he received $100,000 in $1,000 bills which he turned over to Jesse Smith.

Others subpoenaed today are: Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. John W. H. Crim, special assistant attorney general.

Arthur Sixsmith, private secretary to Secretary Mellon.

David H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue.

ST. PAUL HAS A TEAPOT DOME; MOON, NOT OIL

(By United Press) St. Paul, March 18.—There are no oil leases near here nor oil magnates, but St. Paul has a Teapot Dome affair of its own. Prohibition agents lifted the dome off a teapot behind Fred Nord's bar, and found not oil, but moonshine strong enough to make good fuel.

ST. PAUL PRIMARY

POLLS BIG VOTE

20,000, INSPIRED BY SUNSHINE, VOTED UP TO THE NOON HOUR

(By United Press) St. Paul, March 18.—Bright sunshine today had a good deal to do with the big vote at the St. Paul municipal primaries.

Election officials estimated more than 20,000 voted by noon, and women were largely represented in this number. Mayor Arthur E. Nelson and Geo. H. Siegel were favorites for the mayoralty nomination. Twelve councilmen were to be nominated out of a large number of contestants. A total vote of around 55,000 was expected.

SHAFT WATER DOWN TO 135 FOOT LEVEL

Crosby, Minn., March 18.—Some timbers from the shaft level where 41 men were drowned in the Milford mine, February 5th, have been reached, it was reported by workers today.

There is so much sand, water and muck in the mine that it will be an almost endless task to get into the level. Sand has backed up, completely covering the bodies wherever they may be.

Pumpers have succeeded in getting water and muck down to a level of 135 feet from the surface in more than a month's work. It is impossible to tell yet whether any of the bodies will be found.

NEW YORK HERALD IS MERGED WITH THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE

PUBLICATION EVENTUALLY TO APPEAR AS THE HERALD-TRIBUNE

CLAIMED THAT THE PURCHASE PRICE WAS ABOUT $4,000,000

(By United Press) New York, March 18.—The shades of Charles Dana, Horace Greely and the eccentric James Gordon Bennett have been planted together in another sensational Munsey newspaper transaction, formally announced today.

Three great American newspapers of former days were their historic text into one clean sheet, when Ogden M. Reid of the New York Tribune bought the New York Herald from Frank A. Munsey yesterday.

Munsey merged the New York Press and the Sun of the Charles Dana fame of a few years ago, then bought the Herald from the James Gordon Bennett estate, combining them all in one of the biggest morning newspaper transactions in history.

The Herald will pass out of existence with this morning's issue, and beginning tomorrow the two newspapers will be published as one newspaper from the Tribune's new plant. Eventually it will appear as the Herald-Tribune.

The purchase price is reported to be about $4,000,000.

REP. KNUTSON ON TRIAL TODAY IN ARLINGTON COURT

STATUTORY CHARGE FILED AGAINST HIM WHEN ARRESTED WITH L. M. HULL

DEFENSE OF KNUTSON AIDED BY CONGRESSMEN NEWTON AND NELSON

(By United Press) Washington, March 18.—Representative Harold Knutson, of Minnesota, went on trial today in Arlington court, Virginia, on a statutory charge filed against him when he was recently arrested with L. M. Hull, a young government employe, at 9:30 o'clock at night on a lonely Virginia road.

Knutson, careful and confident, appeared at the court house shortly before the hour for his trial. His defense was aided by Representatives Walter Newton and O. J. Nelson of Minnesota.

John W. Wise and John R. Burke, the Virginia highway police, who arrested Knutson and Hull were to be the principal witnesses against him.

Commonwealth Attorney Glouth said he would ask the maximum penalty, or two years' imprisonment, if Knutson and Hull were found guilty.

The case was opened by testimony of Traffic Officer John Wise, who told in detail the circumstances surrounding the arrest of Knutson and his companion, Leroy Hull.

On the way to jail, Wise said Knutson offered to give the arresting officers $6 and forfeiting his car. He further promised to return to Washington and get $100 for them.

"He also said he would not have committed the offense had he not been drinking. We searched the car and found no liquor, nor did they show evidence that they had been drinking."

After Wise had been cross-examined, the prosecution rested its case. Counsel for the defense took strenuous objection on the ground that the honor of congress was involved, and the public and the defense had the right to know all the facts.

C. Glouth, commonwealth attorney, refused to call any other witnesses, but on motion of the defense, Officer John R. Burke was called and corroborated in substantial detail Wise's story.

It is believed that Knutson and Hull will be held for action of the Arlington county grand jury, meeting the third Monday in April.

U MAN IS AUTHOR OF NEW MUSIC SYLLABUS

St. Paul, March 18.—The first "Syllabus of Music History" ever compiled has recently been published by the University of Wisconsin Press. It is now being used in classes in music history at the University School of Music.

The syllabus was written by Dr. C. H. Mills, director of the school, and Miss Evelyn Benham, who teaches history of music at the school.

The syllabus, in outline form, gives the most important points, events, personalities and names associated with the history and development of music. The best references and sources of music history are also listed.

History of music from the beginning, through the period of nationalism to that of modern music, is covered thoroughly by the syllabus. An outline of modern history is now being compiled by the authors to be published in separate form.

The book is for use as a supplement to lectures and textbooks in a music history course, as a factor in correlating the parts of the course and organizing it for student work. Plans are being made to correlate the history of music with the development of music, architecture, and painting by means of a system of charts.

PROSPERITY HAS INCREASED IN THE NORTHWEST

(By United Press) St. Paul, March 18.—Prosperity in the northwest has increased tremendously in the last year, income tax figures showed today.

March payments on income taxes this year will exceed last year's payments by at least $500,000, the tax office estimated.

This increase was recorded in spite of the fact that there are many more persons taxed for taxes than before.

Payment so far this year has amounted to $5,264,283 and at least $500,000 more will come in before the end of the month, it was estimated.

Last year the total paid during March was $5,877,793.

HOUSE PASSED A SOLDIER BONUS BILL TODAY

MEASURE IS RADICALLY DIFFERENT FROM BILL PRES. HARDING VETOED

VOTE STOOD 355 TO 54, OVERWHELMING VICTORY FOR BONUS ADVOCATES

(By United Press) Washington, March 18.—The house today passed the soldier bonus bill.

The measure is radically different from the bill President Harding vetoed.

Its principal provision is a twenty-year endowment insurance which will be issued to all ex-service men except those whose compensation is $50 or less.

These will be entitled to cash.

The vote was 355 to 54, an overwhelming victory for the bonus advocates.

The bill now goes to the senate, where it faces a stormy time, although some form of bonus bill will probably be passed there.

From now on bonus advocates indicated they would center their efforts on getting President Coolidge won over to approval of the insurance bonus plan, or failing that, to insure themselves of enough votes to pass it over his veto.

OKLAHOMA OIL LANDS AUCTIONED

100,000 ACRES OF OSAGE INDIAN LANDS TO BE SOLD TO OIL INVESTORS

(By United Press) Pawhuska, Okla., March 18.—Oil and gas rights and the right to drill upon more than 100,000 acres of Osage Indian lands went upon the auction block here today, with the opening of the two-day lease sale before hundreds of representatives of the world's oil fraternity.

Untold wealth, secreted uncertainly beneath the rolling Osage hills, stored as the rendezvous of the adventurous and law-breakers since territorial days, will pass into the hands of those willing to take a chance and millions of dollars in concrete form will be added to the bankrolls of the Osages, wealthiest per capita of the American aborigines, within two days.

Suspended for more than a year as the result of paralysis in oil circles, following the slump in crude oil prices, the greatest lease sale ever held in the southwest got under way in the first two-day auction in the annals of Indian land history.

DIAMOND ROBBER TRUST UNEARTHED IN CHICAGO TODAY

FOUR PERSONS IN JAIL AND A DOZEN SUSPECTS BEING WATCHED

SAID OPERATIONS OF THE TRUST NETTED SOME $8,000,000 GEMS AND CASH

(By United Press) Chicago, March 18.—Four persons are in jail and a dozen other suspects are being watched in a diamond robbers trust investigation under way by two internationally known private detective agencies and police in Chicago and New York.

The operations of the trust netted some $8,000,000 in gems and insurance money, States Attorney Robert E. Crewe estimated.

Morris Livingston, Chicago diamond merchant, Lawson Jaffe, salesman employed by Livingston, James Probasco, former cabaret owner and Miss Julie Smith, companion of Probasco, were taken into custody last night.

Two Chicago diamond dealers and salesmen are under investigation. Detectives also are investigating a beautiful young woman of Oriental caste who played the siren and lured diamond salesmen into submitting to fake robberies.

The robber's trust used salesmen and shady diamond stores. The salesmen would be induced to submit to robbery, receiving a percentage of the loot. If they refused, they were robbed just the same and their reward was a beating instead of part of the loot.

The trust also kept watch for stores on the verge of bankruptcy and approached the proprietors with a fake robbery proposition.

Many small jewelers agreed, with the result that the trust secured the diamonds and the proprietor collected the insurance.

MINE OWNERS SENT TAX NOTICE

(By United Press) St. Paul, March 18.—Mine owners receiving royalties today were sent notices of their six per cent royalty tax.

The state tax commission sent about 500 notices calling for the payment of $900,000. This action was taken despite the pending suit set for hearing April 7, in which the federal court is asked to prevent the state from collecting the royalty tax.

KOLLINER SUCCEEDS JUDGE BUFFINGTON

(By United Press) Minneapolis, March 18.—Judge George W. Buffington, Hennepin county district court, resigned today and Robert F. Kolliner was immediately appointed to the place by Governor Preus. Judge Kolliner was formerly a professor of law at the state university.

many tracts are offsets of proven oil territory, known throughout the oil world as the "Burbank field."

Records in the Indian land agency here show that more than 80 per cent of approximately 550,000 acres of Indian lands disposed of in earlier sales have proved valuable and with such knowledge bidders faced the auctioneer here today.

While the potential value of the territory will be determined through its development, the monetary reversion to the Osage owners may be safely computed from the past sales.

The greatest amount heretofore realized from an Osage sale was $10,889,700, in 1922, when 33,220 acres of land was leased. Since the first sale in 1912, oil men have spent $76,736,123 for leases comprising 547,155 acres, an average of $140.25 an acre.

ANOTHER QUAKE DISASTER VISITS JAPANESE ISLANDS

(By United Press) Tokio, March 18.—Another earthquake disaster has visited the Japanese islands.

1 KILLED, 1 HURT, CRASH INTO TRAIN

MOTORCYCLE RIDERS AT HIGH SPEED STRIKE STANDING FREIGHT

(By United Press) St. Cloud, Minn., March 18.—Lester Morfitt, 35, deputy sheriff of Benton county, was instantly killed and Harold Bouk, 18, suffered possible fatal injuries late last night when they crashed into a freight train on the Northern Pacific tracks in East St. Cloud.

The two were returning to St. Cloud on Morfitt's motorcycle. Morfitt apparently did not see that a freight train blocked the tracks, and speeded on at about 40 miles an hour, according to trainmen. Nearing the cars, he saw the danger and tried to swerve off and crashed into a boxcar. Morfitt's skull was crushed.

Bouk's skull was fractured and he was still unconscious late today. Morfitt is survived by his widow and three children.

BERGDOLL WOULD LIKE TO RETURN TO UNITED STATES

AMERICAN DRAFT EVADER GIVES INTERVIEW TO THE UNITED PRESS

HE SEEMS TO FEAR "SECRET ORGANIZATIONS" OF AMERICA

(By United Press) Berlin, March 18.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft evader, is "open to anything reasonable in the way of an offer to return to the United States," he told the United Press today.

Following extensive reports that Bergdoll is anxious to return to America, the United Press cabled the draft evader in Erbach, who replied, "I have not received any definite offer to return to America, and consequently have not agreed to any such proposition. However, I am open to anything reasonable in that line."

Bergdoll's offer was communicated immediately to the American ambassador for transmission to Washington if desired. It was assumed the ambassador would inform the state or war department, in event the United States government was interested in negotiating for the draft evader's return.

"It was generally assumed here that Bergdoll hopes to be promised at least partial amnesty and that the 'proposition' he would like to receive is an offer of a short prison sentence, with guarantees that he will not be molested by the 'secret organizations' he so fears in America."

TODAY'S RUN, SACRAMENTO TO VANCOUVER

AT VANCOUVER BARRACKS PONTOONS WILL BE ADDED TO ARMY PLANES

LIEUT. HOWELL SMITH FIRST TO LAND, MAJOR MARTIN WAS SECOND

(By United Press) Mather Field, Sacramento, Calif., March 18.—With the first lap of their 30,000 mile flight around the world completed, three United States army airplanes were here today ready to take off on the second leg of their journey.

Today's flight, if weather conditions are favorable, will be from Mather Field to Vancouver Barracks, Washington, where the big Douglas air cruisers will be fitted out with pontoons to prepare for their flight over land and over waters to Asia.

The planes arrived here without mishap at 2:05 p. m. yesterday, after leaving Clover Field, Santa Monica, at 9:32 a. m.

Lieutenant Howell Smith was the first to land, followed by Major Martin and Lieutenant Wade. Lieutenant Erick Nelson, the fourth of the world fliers, hopes to take off from San Diego today to join his comrades at Portland or Seattle.

He was delayed by late delivery of his plane by the manufacturers.

GREAT BRITAIN MAY ENTER RACE

London, March 18.—Stirred by the start of American airplanes on a world flight, Great Britain is rushing planes to enter the race and beat the Americans around the world, the Evening News declared today.

The Britishers will fly eastward whereas the course of the United States army fliers is taking them westward.

Three Royal Air Force airmen, one at least using a Napier-Vicker Amphibian plane, similar to that which Sir Ross Smith flew to Australia, are hurrying secret preparations for a start, the News states.

It had been planned to start the British flight April 15th, but the date has been put ahead.

The British aviators have a schedule calling for completing of the globe encircling flight in three months which would bring them home ahead of the Americans.

SECOND DAY'S FLIGHT UNDER WAY

Mather Field, Calif., March 18.—The second day's flight of the army "around the world" party started at 9:48 a. m. today.

At that time the three Douglas cruisers, headed by Major Frederick Martin, making the flight, hopped off from Mather Field and headed northbound for Eugene, Oregon, and Vancouver Barracks, Washington.

The fliers expected to encounter no unfavorable weather, all reports being a clear sky and light wind.

Lieutenant Erick Nelson reached Clover Field, Los Angeles, after completing the first leg of his journey from San Diego.

Indictments are to be sought against three persons as principals, and several others will be involved as alleged accomplices.

Charges of conspiracy to defraud the government and of bribery, set forth in the petition for cancellation, will form the foundation of the government's criminal proceedings.

Prosecuting of criminal charges need not necessarily await the result of the civil suits, it was pointed out here today, as the cases involved in the criminal cases will not be affected by the court's decision as to the validity or illegality of the leases themselves.

Mellon will be given an opportunity to reply to charges made before the committee by Gaston B. Means, former department of justice agent. Means testified that he made an "under cover investigation" of Mellon's alleged connection with the liquor deals in New York City.

"We caught Mellon," Means said. Weeks is expected to testify in connection with the aircraft cases in which Means testified under oath that he received $100,000 in $1,000 bills which he turned over to Jesse Smith.

Others subpoenaed today are: Prohibition Commissioner Haynes. John W. H. Crim, special assistant attorney general. Arthur Sixsmith, private secretary to Secretary Mellon. David H. Blair, commissioner of internal revenue.

REP. KNUTSON ON TRIAL TODAY IN ARLINGTON COURT

STATUTORY CHARGE FILED AGAINST HIM WHEN ARRESTED WITH L. M. HULL

DEFENSE OF KNUTSON AIDED BY CONGRESSMEN NEWTON AND NELSON

(By United Press) Washington, March 18.—Representative Harold Knutson, of Minnesota, went on trial today in Arlington court, Virginia, on a statutory charge filed against him when he was recently arrested with L. M. Hull, a young government employee, at 9:30 o'clock at night on a lonely Virginia road.

Knutson, careful and confident, appeared at the court house shortly before the hour for his trial. His defense was aided by Representatives Walter Newton and O. J. Nelson of Minnesota.

John W. Wise and John R. Burke, the Virginia highway police, who arrested Knutson and Hull were to be the principal witnesses against him. Commonwealth Attorney Glouth said he would ask the maximum penalty, or two years' imprisonment, if Knutson and Hull were found guilty.

The case was opened by testimony of Traffic Officer John Wise, who told in detail the circumstances surrounding the arrest of Knutson and his companion, Leroy Hull.

On the way to jail, Wise said Knutson offered to give the arresting officers $6 and forfeiting his car. He further promised to return to Washington and get $100 for them.

"He also said he would not have committed the offense had he not been drinking. We searched the car and found no liquor, nor did they show evidence that they had been drinking."

After Wise had been cross-examined, the prosecution rested its case. Counsel for the defense took strenuous objection on the ground that the honor of congress was involved, and the public and the defense had the right to know all the facts.

C. Glouth, commonwealth attorney, refused to call any other witnesses, but on motion of the defense, Officer John R. Burke was called and corroborated in substantial detail Wise's story.

It is believed that Knutson and Hull will be held for action of the Arlington county grand jury, meeting the third Monday in April.

While the potential value of the territory will be determined through its development, the monetary reversion to the Osage owners may be safely computed from the past sales.

The greatest amount heretofore realized from an Osage sale was $10,889,700, in 1922, when 33,220 acres of land was leased. Since the first sale in 1912, oil men have spent $76,736,123 for leases comprising 547,156 acres, an average of $140.25 an acre.

(By United Press) Tokio, March 18.—Another earthquake disaster has visited the Japanese islands.

This time Kaskiku, a small Japanese colony on the Saghalien island, has been the center of the shake.

Meagre reports reaching here said that the shock occurred Saturday night. Houses were shaken down and many casualties were reported.

1 KILLED, 1 HURT, CRASH INTO TRAIN

MOTORCYCLE RIDERS AT HIGH SPEED STRIKE STANDING FREIGHT

(By United Press) St. Cloud, Minn., March 18.—Lester Morfitt, 35, deputy sheriff of Benton county, was instantly killed and Harold Bouk, 18, suffered possible fatal injuries late last night when they crashed into a freight train on the Northern Pacific tracks in East St. Cloud.

The two were returning to St. Cloud on Morfitt's motorcycle. Morfitt apparently did not see that a freight train blocked the tracks, and speeded on at about 40 miles an hour, according to trainmen. Nearing the cars, he saw the danger and tried to swerve off and crashed into a boxcar. Morfitt's skull was crushed. Bouk's skull was fractured and he was still unconscious late today. Morfitt is survived by his widow and three children.

BERGDOLL WOULD LIKE TO RETURN TO UNITED STATES

AMERICAN DRAFT EVADER GIVES INTERVIEW TO THE UNITED PRESS

HE SEEMS TO FEAR "SECRET ORGANIZATIONS" OF AMERICA

(By United Press) Berlin, March 18.—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft evader, is "open to anything reasonable in the way of an offer to return to the United States," he told the United Press today.

Following extensive reports that Bergdoll is anxious to return to America, the United Press cabled the draft evader in Erbach, who replied, "I have not received any definite offer to return to America, and consequently have not agreed to any such proposition. However, I am open to anything reasonable in that line."

Bergdoll's offer was communicated immediately to the American ambassador for transmission to Washington if desired. It was assumed the ambassador would inform the state or war department, in event the United States government was interested in negotiating for the draft evader's return.

"It was generally assumed here that Bergdoll hopes to be promised at least partial amnesty and that the 'proposition' he would like to receive is an offer of a short prison sentence, with guarantees that he will not be molested by the 'secret organizations' he so fears in America."

TODAY'S RUN, SACRAMENTO TO VANCOUVER

AT VANCOUVER BARRACKS PONTOONS WILL BE ADDED TO ARMY PLANES

LIEUT. HOWELL SMITH FIRST TO LAND, MAJOR MARTIN WAS SECOND

(By United Press) Mather Field, Sacramento, Calif., March 18.—With the first lap of their 30,000 mile flight around the world completed, three United States army airplanes were here today ready to take off on the second leg of their journey.

Today's flight, if weather conditions are favorable, will be from Mather Field to Vancouver Barracks, Washington, where the big Douglas air cruisers will be fitted out with pontoons to prepare for their flight over land and over waters to Asia.

The planes arrived here without mishap at 2:05 p. m. yesterday, after leaving Clover Field, Santa Monica, at 9:32 a. m.

Lieutenant Howell Smith was the first to land, followed by Major Martin and Lieutenant Wade. Lieutenant Erick Nelson, the fourth of the world fliers, hopes to take off from San Diego today to join his comrades at Portland or Seattle.

He was delayed by late delivery of his plane by the manufacturers.

GREAT BRITAIN MAY ENTER RACE

London, March 18.—Stirred by the start of American airplanes on a world flight, Great Britain is rushing planes to enter the race and beat the Americans around the world, the Evening News declared today.

The Britishers will fly eastward whereas the course of the United States army fliers is taking them westward.

Three Royal Air Force airmen, one at least using a Napier-Vicker Amphibian plane, similar to that which Sir Ross Smith flew to Australia, are hurrying secret preparations for a start, the News states.

It had been planned to start the British flight April 15th, but the date has been put ahead.

The British aviators have a schedule calling for completing of the globe encircling flight in three months which would bring them home ahead of the Americans.

SECOND DAY'S FLIGHT UNDER WAY

Mather Field, Calif., March 18.—The second day's flight of the army "around the world" party started at 9:48 a. m. today.

At that time the three Douglas cruisers, headed by Major Frederick Martin, making the flight, hopped off from Mather Field and headed northbound for Eugene, Oregon, and Vancouver Barracks, Washington.

The fliers expected to encounter no unfavorable weather, all reports being a clear sky and light wind.

Lieutenant Erick Nelson reached Clover Field, Los Angeles, after completing the first leg of his journey from San Diego.

TWO MORE FARMER LABOR FILINGS

(By United Press) St. Paul, March 18.—Two more farmer-labor candidates have filed for places on their party state ticket.

W. W. Boyster, Glenwood, leader among railroad brotherhoods, is candidate for governor, and Thomas V. Sullivan, St. Paul, is candidate for attorney general.

He has run three times for attorney general prior to this year and has been defeated each time by Attorney General Hilton.

Two Monthly Publications Will Spring From Remains of Minnesota Farm Review

St. Paul, March 18.—From the ashes of the Minnesota Farm Review, the student weekly paper which died a natural death at university farm this week after an existence of more than a quarter of a century, will spring two monthly publications, one, a magazine of somewhat pretentious character, to represent the college, and the other an eight-page publication to represent the school of agriculture, six numbers of the latter being issued each year, one for every school month.

The advisory committee of the Review prints a statement in which it says the changes are made for business reasons, for the fact that the Minnesota Daily cuts into the Review's circulation, and the further fact that it was desirable for the college and school of agriculture to have their independent publications.

Weaver Is Appointed Advertising Manager of Northern Pacific

St. Paul, March 18.—Appointment of Luther P. Weaver as advertising agent, passenger department, Northern Pacific railway, was announced by A. B. Smith, passenger traffic manager.

Mr. Weaver, a resident of the Twin Cities for 10 years, has been connected with Twin Cities newspapers for seven years in editorial and advertising departments. A tenure as managing editor of business publications was followed by two years in general publicity undertakings.

In 1922 he was assistant director of the Conference for the prevention of Grain Rust. In 1923, as the organization's first executive secretary, he initiated the Minneapolis Publicity bureau's tourist development activities.

The appointment becomes effective at once.

Find Heart of Voltaire

(By United Press)
Paris, March 17.—The heart of Voltaire, believed to have been stolen from the National Library sixty years ago, has been found in a part of the building rarely frequented. There can be no question about its genuineness, for all the documents certifying that it is the heart of the great satirist were found with it. The heart is contained in a metal coffer. It was found in a space hollowed out in the pedestal of Houdon's original statue of Voltaire.

Try Them on Yourself.

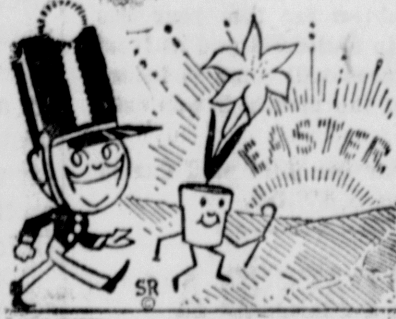

If you think a baby is comfortable with his head wrapped up in a blanket, or when being joggled up and down, or after a day's sucking on a pacifier, or with a stomach full of "soothing sirup" you might try some of these things on yourself for a few days.

Telephones in Europe.

If there were as many telephones in Europe in proportion to population as there are in the United States, Europe would have more than 62,022,000 telephones. As it is they have but 5,006,202.

Best for All.

CHIROPRACTIC For Fever

A Chiropractor would rather get a fever case than anything else. Why? Because it is a common thing for fevers to break up after one or two adjustments have been given. "My How Time Flies"

Have you ever said that; or felt like saying it? The months tread swiftly on each other's heels; suddenly we realize that a year has passed.

Thirty-six months is a short time. But deposit six dollars a week for that time and you have almost a thousand dollars. Six dollars a week for only thirty-six months, almost $1000—think of it! Worth trying; don't you think so?

GUILD HAS A CAPACITY HOUSE

"Among the Breakers," Home Talent Play, Presented by St. Francis Society at New Park

ST. PATRICK'S DAY THEME
Cast Had Many Good Irish Characters and Specialties were Ballads of Erin

The ladies of St. Francis Catholic guild were accorded a capacity house at their benefit local talent play, "Among the Breakers" at the New Park theatre Monday evening. Everything about the play followed the St. Patrick's day theme. The programs were printed in green, the orchestra played favorite Irish melodies, the cast contained several good old Irish characters, and the specialties between the acts were ballads of old Erin.

Frank Sears, the director, deserves much credit for his selection of the cast and the manner in which his supporters carried their parts. The two-act comedy-drama was staged without a hitch, each member of the cast portraying his or her part with excellent interpretation.

The scene of the play centered around the lighthouse on the coast of Ireland, where a party of aristocrats were driven ashore by a storm. In the first act the storm breaks, both outside and inside the lighthouse, and in the last act the skies clear and everything ends just as the audience hopes it will.

Mr. Sears carried the difficult role of Paul Hunter, alias David Murray, keeper of the lighthouse, born and raised among riches, but disinherited by his father, because of his marriage to a girl of lower rank.

Hon. Bruce Hunter, nature's nobleman, was well cast in Walter Cleary, who as an adopted son of Paul Hunter's father, inherited the vast estates which were Paul's birthright.

The principal love scene, for there were several, centered about Clarence Hunter, ward of Sir Bruce, and Bess Starbright. James Cleary took the one part and Miss Irene Turcotte the other, both deserving much credit and both making a decidedly good impression on the audience.

Miss Mayme Scallon, in a new role demonstrated her versatility as Mother Cary, a fortune teller, which she portrayed perfectly.

Miss Ann Linneman, as Miss Minnie Daze, very much in love and encountering the difficulties of a very changeable lover, enacted her part in the romantic style that was her role.

Miss Katherine Bolan was cast as Biddy Bean, and her portrayal of that character stamped her as "right from the bog." Her lover was Larry Divine, assistant lighthouse keeper, an ardent lover and persistent, who wins the fair Biddy mostly through his harneying. Larry was ably enacted by James Nolan.

Leo McCaffrey furnished his full share of the comedy as Peter Paragaph, a newspaper reporter, with a vocabulary that was broad to say the least, and a love for Miss Minnie Daze that was perfect when there were no other eligible young ladies to wait upon.

Last, but not least was Scud, Bruce Hunter's colored servant, portrayed by David Goodnature with exceptional ability. With all the superstitions of his race to be combated, Scud proves himself very capable in time of need, and saves a life during the darkest hours of night.

As specialties between the acts, Mrs. Mal Clark sang "Come Back to Erin," and "Thank God for a Garden," with "The Wearin' of the Green" as an encore, and A. C. Mraz sang "Mother Machree" and "A Little Bit of Heaven." Mrs. Milton Mahlum acted as accompanist for both of these local artists, who were as always, enthusiastically received.

Westminster Guild
Westminster Guild will meet Wednesday evening, March 19, at the home of Miss Esther Gustafson.

Two weeks ago the guild was entertained by the Misses Alma and Georgia Brown at their home on 7th street North. The lesson was discussed by three of the members, after which a delicious luncheon was served.

THE COW

From Ft. Madison (Iowa) Democrat.
From this time on the humble cow is going to play a more and more important part in the economic progress of this country. We are coming to that point where we must make the beginnings of intensive farming and henceforth we will boast less and less of our results per man and begin to turn our attention to the results per acre.

We are discovering that the one-crop farmer is oftenest on the financial shoals, and the wheat farmer is the one on whom we are basing our direct complaints at this time, which is confirmation of that statement.

Wheat, we are discovering, has not much foreign outlet and we are trying to increase its consumption at home with a campaign of Eat More Bread. But at the same time that wheat is lying useless in the bins, we are importing butter and cheese and other dairy products from the more congested district of Europe, adding the cost of transportation to the original cost, and being more or less dependent on foreign supply. Danish butter is no novelty on Iowa markets and imported cheese is a matter of daily sale.

At the same time we are neglecting sadly the cow, which stands ready to mend all the deficits in dairy products, and at the same time to better our soil and to turn, with the most profit, the pasture and feed into a quick and constant money crop.

The weekly cream check, compared with the check from the sale of a crop of corn or a bunch of hogs, may seem small, but the cream check has a satisfying habit of repetition that is warming to the pocketbook and endearing to the banker. It totals up well in the course of a year and is not wiped out by a fluctuation or two in the markets.

The objection often made to the dairy cow is that she is a hard mistress and requires careful administrations twice a day, but the same objection obtains in many other lines of industry. Editing, for instance, requires hourly attention, and so does running a railroad or a store or any other business. It may be irksome to keep an appointment with Old Bossy down by the old stile, but there are a good many other irksome facts in life, and the income from their conferences is considerable consolation.

The dairy country always is a section that commands respect, and the dairy farmer is one whose presence is welcome in a bank. He comes often enough to keep up the acquaintance, and if he borrows it is for the very happy object of increasing his capital stock, which is a good pun if you want to take it that way.

BAPTISED ON HIS DEATHBED; WINS JEWISH BURIAL

(By United Press)
Warsaw, March 18.—A curious "cause celebre" has come to an end here with the burial of Raphael Felsenkranz in the Jewish cemetery.

Felsenkranz, an orthodox Jew, and for many years editor of the Assekuranz Zeitung, died recently, aged 71. He had a daughter who became converted to Christianity and adopted the Polish name of Lilia Wojciechowska. When her father was dying she decided that he should die in the Christian faith, so she had him baptized while unconscious on his deathbed.

Then she was smitten with remorse and hurried off to the chief rabbi of Warsaw and asked him to re-admit her father to the Jewish faith. The chief rabbi hurried with her to the house. But they were too late. The old editor had passed on.

Then came the question where the remains were to be placed. The Jewish community ruled that as he had been baptized he belonged to the Christian burial ground; the distressed family appealed to the secular authorities, who replied that they could not overrule the Jewish community. Then the family carried the appeal to the Rabbinical Council, which decided that Felsenkranz had never consciously abjured the faith of his fathers and was entitled to Jewish burial. So after eight days of intense public discussion the old editor was laid to rest in the Jewish burial ground.

WILKES LAND

AMERICA has been slow in availing itself of the work done by its explorers and discoverers. Territory to which the government had such rights has been allowed to lapse to other nations. A case in point is the territory known as Wilkes Land, discovered and charted by Commander Charles Wilkes of the United States navy in the course of a tour of the South Seas in 1840. The coast line of that continent extends for no less than 1,500 miles along the Antarctic circle from the 100th to the 160th meridians east of Greenwich. Its eastern end is about 1,600 miles south of New Zealand. It is believed that Wilkes Land is continuous to the South Pole, and in all probability contains vast deposits of oil, valuable metals and other minerals. In area it is almost equal to half of continental United States.

The explorations of Commander Wilkes are set forth in detail on charts of the United States navy and of the British admiralty. The title of the United States to the territory is generally admitted, for in all the 84 years since its discovery there have been no other claims filed upon them. But unless this country perfects its holding and provides for the government of Wilkes Land, it is likely to find itself involved in a controversy over its control. Even now the British are fitting out a ship for south seas exploration which may visit the territory and set up conflicting claims.

IT WAS STROUT'S BOOK

At the farmer-labor state convention held in St. Cloud, Chairman Fred A. Pike read the opening call and then got into a lot of trouble when he attempted to name John A. Baldis a temporary chairman. Several delegates questioned his right to make the nomination from the chair.

Pike read Robert's rules of order, which book, by the way, belonged to I. C. Strout, of Brainerd, who was a representative of the sixth district serving on the credentials committee. The book backed up the chairman's action, but things mixed up when the chairman recognized other motions instead of proceeding directly with his nomination.

The delegates, instead of adopting Mr. Pike's method, voted for a call for nominations from the floor and six were nominated, ending at last in unanimous selection of Evans.

It was Mr. Strout's first experience in a political convention and he was kept busy, serving on two committees, first representing the sixth district on the credentials and then on the resolutions.

MRS. ANNA DICKEY OLESEN

MRS. ANNA DICKEY OLESEN, once candidate for United States senator of Minnesota, has turned from politics to education. She is now a resident of Northfield where her husband is registrar of Carleton. Mrs. Olesen is occupying a prominent place in the collegiate circle of Carleton and St. Olaf.

Among her recent lecture engagements was one in Des Moines, Iowa, where she addressed the teachers of Iowa on the occasion of their annual convention, her topics being, "The New Social Consciousness," and "Problems of the Hour." During this lecture trip she also visited Detroit, Ohio and Indiana.

TRAP DEVOTEES

AMONG the greatest devotees of trapshooting are the members of the Fort Snelling association. They have been shooting regularly all winter, are constant in attendance and consistent in making good scores. It is no wonder that these shooters make records when they appear at state and other shoots.

Eyes and nerves generally are tuned up to perfection pitch, causing outsiders to wonder when they see the scores turned in. The Brainerd Gun club does no shooting in the dead of winter, but the Fort Snelling shooters stop for no wind, frost or snow.

HEARSAY EVIDENCE

THE other day Rear Admiral Charles Plunkett, commandant of the Brooklyn navy yard, was credited with the statement that Washington was "the wettest city in the United States." This is quite an assertion, as it involves acquaintance with every other city in the United States so as to arrive at the comparative wetness of the capital of America.

The rear admiral was asked to verify the statement and qualified the report by saying he had been "informed."

BERGDOLL WOULD LIKE TO COME BACK

THE United Press has secured a story from Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, American draft evader, who would like to come back to America. Evidently life in the old country of Germany has palled and Bergdoll would rather serve his sentence in America and then be released, preferring this course to walking about Berlin with an armed guard trailing his heels.

ELECTION IN ST. PAUL

CANDIDATES in St. Paul covered two pages of the St. Paul Daily News with heart-felt stories telling why they should be elected to office. Larry Hodgson, well known in Brainerd, is a candidate for councilman, and said the only way he could be elected was by the votes of the people.

THE high water mark in friendship was evidenced in a Duluth municipal court when a woodsman, who had been dangerously slashed about the head and neck by his drunken friend, refused to prosecute the latter and also paid his fine, both having been found guilty of drunkenness.

THERE'S a London policeman who claims to have walked 200,000 miles during his 30-year service, averaging 20 miles daily on his beat. He has decided to retire and give his legs a rest.

THE senate refused yesterday to approve a constitutional amendment planned to limit the tenure of office of the president to one term of four years.

"I AM MY BROTHER'S KEEPER" TRULY EXEMPLIFIED

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF UNION PRINTERS HOME

Devoted to the Care of Invalid, Aged and Infirm Members of the Organization

NOBLE AND UNIQUE INSTITUTION

Erected and Maintained by the International Typographical Union of North America

Editor's Note: The following article was furnished The Dispatch by Brainerd Typographical Union for the purpose of directing attention to the institution at Colorado Springs, Colo. Up to June, 1920, the union printers of the United States and Canada have expended over two and a quarter millions of dollars in establishing and maintaining this home for invalid, aged and infirm members of the organization. It is the only institution of its kind in the world.

In May, 1857, the first proposition to establish a home, or asylum, for invalid, aged or infirm union printers, was made to the National Typographical Union at its session in New Orleans, La. The proposition, however, did not meet with serious consideration and was dropped. Since then the question was renewed at numerous conventions of the International Typographical Union but no action taken until George W. Childs and A. J. Drexel presented the I. T. U. with a check for $10,000, at the 34th annual

The trades unions and civic societies joined in a monster parade through the city, after which they adjourned to the home, where the visitors were received by a committee of ladies from Denver and Colorado Springs. The exercises were held in the open space in front of the main building. Vice President Amison, of the board of trustees, opened with a short address, and was followed by Rev. James B. Gregg with a fervent prayer of dedication. The Colorado Springs band and the Pueblo Cowboy band rendered several selections, after which Governor Rount, of Colorado, was introduced. His speech was brief but appropriate. Following him came Mayor Ira C. Sprague, of Colorado Springs, who delivered a short address, in which he paid a high tribute to the printer and his work, and extended a cordial welcome to all strangers present. James McKenna, first vice president of the I. T. U., responded to the mayor's address of welcome. The most conspicuous figure on the platform, Mr. George W. Childs, was then introduced. Cheers greeted his introduction and followed the conclusion of his talk. Leon Hartigan, a Creede printer, read a specially prepared poem by Eugene the north end 90 by 50 feet. Porches extend from the wing to the south end of the building on the first and second stories, affording easy access to any part of the building from the rear. Each story contains a central hall the entire length of the building, every room opening into the main hallway, in addition to having outer windows. During the year 1914 the south wing of the main building was remodeled and is used exclusively for hospital purposes, giving 30 additional beds for afflicted residents. Sleeping porches were built on the east side of this portion of the building, so that patients may be placed in the open air when weather permits, which is practically all the time in the Colorado climate. In addition to these changes, an automatic electric elevator was installed for the convenience of the residents and visitors; also an automatic electric dumb waiter, for carrying trays to the patients on the various floors, was provided. The attic was remodeled and divided into 26 bright, sunny rooms, providing pleasant sleeping quarters for the female employees. The old-fashioned dormers were replaced by larger and more artistic ones, adding to the attractiveness of the building.

In 1917 the main building was further enlarged by the erection of a new addition. This addition has 35 sleeping rooms, those on the east side of the building being arranged with sleeping porches for patients who are required to remain in bed a considerable portion of the time. On the ground floor is located the general dining-room for sanatorium patients with a seating capacity for 170. Diet kitchens are located in convenient places on the upper floors and are used by nurses for preparing nourishment, palatable drinks, etc., for bed patients. East of and connecting with the main dining room is a large kitchen from which all food is served for sanatorium patients. This addition is well lighted and ventilated, and all fixtures and furnishings are the last word in sanitation. The exterior of the new addition is of material and design which conforms to the original main building.

Another addition, costing $300,000, which will increase the capacity of the home 50 per cent, is now under construction. Part of the addition will be a hospital annex completely equipped, including X-ray and surgical laboratories. In addition to the cost of the new buildings, $50,000 will be spent for hospital equipment. An entire new wing, including sun porches and sleeping rooms, will be added to the main building.

A broad stone stairway, protected by heavy balustrades, leads up to the massive archway to the portico. From the vestibule the open portals of the main entrance invite to spacious parlors, reception rooms and chambers on either side of the main hall. Above the portico, in the second-story cap course of sandstone, in raised Gothic letters, are the words, "Union Printers Home," while on either side, throughout the front elevation, suitable carving ornaments the exterior. The inside finish is of white pine, except the stairway, which is white oak, with carved panels. The building contains 190 rooms, the kitchens, pantries, cold-storage rooms, dining rooms, closets, store-rooms, etc., being on the basement floor.

The Sanatorium Building
Tuberculosis being one of the diseases to which printers are especially liable, it is not surprising that the ravages of this disease caused many to seek shelter and care at the home. At the convention in 1896 the advisability of a hospital building was discussed and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"That an assessment of 50 cents on each member in the jurisdiction of the International Typographical Union shall be levied to provide funds to build a hospital annex to the Union Printers Home."

The hospital building was located just south of the main structure, covering a space of 50x90 feet, and was originally but two stories in height. The demands for admission to this building having outgrown its capacity, the board of trustees, at its annual meeting in September, 1902, decided to increase the number of rooms by adding another story. The architects who designed the original building were instructed to prepare plans for the new addition and to carry out the general scheme of the lower stories. This method was followed and work was commenced on the improvement early in January, 1903, and completed in April of the same year. The architecture of the hospital is in keeping with that of the main building, the superstructure being of Castle Rock lava stone.

The Tents
In 1904 ten tents were erected near the hospital building for the use of tuberculous patients. They proved to be such a valuable acquisition to the hospital service in the treatment of lung trouble, that 10 more were added in 1907. The tents are octagonal in shape, with framework as substantial as that of a house, are securely anchored on four sides, and will withstand the most severe winds. The covering is of the best 15-ounce double-filler army canvas, and is impervious to snow, wind or rain. A circulation of air is secured by an arrangement of ventilators in the floor around four sides of the tent and in the peak. These ventilators can be closed, but are kept open except in extremely cold weather. The tents are steam-heated, lighted by electricity, and have a system of electric bells, by which the occupants can immediately summon a nurse.

With 20 tents and the hospital given up to tuberculous residents, there was need of a central building for their use. To supply this want a new building, called the solarium, was erected in 1907.

The Open-Air Pavilion
After the completion of the solarium it was found that still more space was needed for tuberculous residents, and an open-air pavilion was erected that will accommodate 30 patients, thus giving the home at this time hospital accommodations for 145 people.

The experimental stage in open air treatment for tuberculosis has long since been passed. Fully 50 per cent of the patients who have the advantage of "tent life" and the regenerating rays of the Colorado sun, have recovered health and strength and have been enabled to again assume business duties. There are many tent colonies in Colorado, but few of them compare with the Tuberculosis Sanatorium at the home.

The Laundry and Heating Plant
The laundry and heating plant is located about 90 feet east of the main building and hospital, and covers 6,100 square feet. The dimensions of the laundry are 30x59 feet. Its machinery equipment is ample, and of the latest design and best quality. The sterilizing and disinfecting apparatus in use reduces to a minimum the chances of contagion through the medium of clothing, etc., used by the sick.

To the south of the laundry is the engine room. This room is large enough to accommodate two dynamos, should the home install an electric lighting system. Two 150 horse-power water-tube boilers have been installed, taking the place of the two 40 horse-power boilers which were purchased when the home was established.

The second story contains 15 large sleeping rooms, with necessary lavatory accommodations. These rooms are used by the male employees of the institution.

The Library
The original library of the home contained about 3,000 books. This number has been increased from time to time until at present the library contains nearly 10,000 volumes. The homes receives 100 papers, including many of the leading dailies, weeklies and monthlies, together with several religious and literary publications. Many magazines are received through the courtesy of their publishers, and the home subscribes for two copies of each of the leading monthlies. The library is supplied with literature that would be a credit to any institution.

Superintendent's Cottage
The superintendent and his family occupy a six-room modern cottage, located a short distance north of the main building. This dwelling is heated by steam and lighted by electricity, and is connected by telephone with every department of the institution. The outside walls are of white lava stone, similar to that used in the other buildings. This addition was completed in 1900, its cost, including furnishings, being $3,400.

Barns and Live Stock
In 1907 the stock barns were partially destroyed by fire. New barns and sheds, presenting a handsome architectural appearance and in keeping with the substantial character of the other home buildings, were erected at a cost of about $5,500. During the year 1916 the barns and sheds were enlarged at a cost of $1,600, thereby increasing their capacity to such an extent that there is now ample room for housing 60 head of cattle and six horses. The home's cattle are thoroughbred Holsteins, and the herd, valued at $12,000 is considered one of the finest in Colorado. In 1918 an electric double unit milking machine was installed at a cost of $700. Besides being a more sanitary method of milking, the time consumed in doing the work is reduced about one-half.

Supported by Membership
Many people suppose that the expenses of the home are defrayed by endowments. Such is not the case. Since the original gift of Messrs. Childs and Drexel, the home has received gifts aggregating but $5,664.92. Since its completion, all expenses of the home, including cost of maintenance, have been paid from money contributed by the members of the International Typographical Union, the revenue being provided by setting apart a certain portion of the monthly contributions to the union.

At first an assessment of 10 cents per member per month was levied. This was later increased to 15 cents and then to 20 cents. This revenue proved inadequate for the needs of the home and it was further increased to 30 cents where it now stands.

Average Cost per Resident

During the year ended May 31, 1920, the expenditures from the home fund were $175,694.84. Included in this amount is all money paid for improvements and repairs on the buildings and grounds, farming expenses, insurance, food supplies, clothing, pensions, medical attendance, transportation of residents who vacate, burials, salaries of employees and officers, printing, and the expenses of meetings of the board of trustees. Deducting $9,299.05 expended in building operations and receipts from the sale of supplies and transportation refunded, the net cost of maintenance is found to be $166,395.79, or $773.93 per year; $66.49 per month for each resident. When it is remembered that this sum covers all expenses in connection with the upkeep of the home property and the care of its patients in a manner not excelled, if equaled, in any similar institution, the cost will not appear excessive.

Residents Accommodated

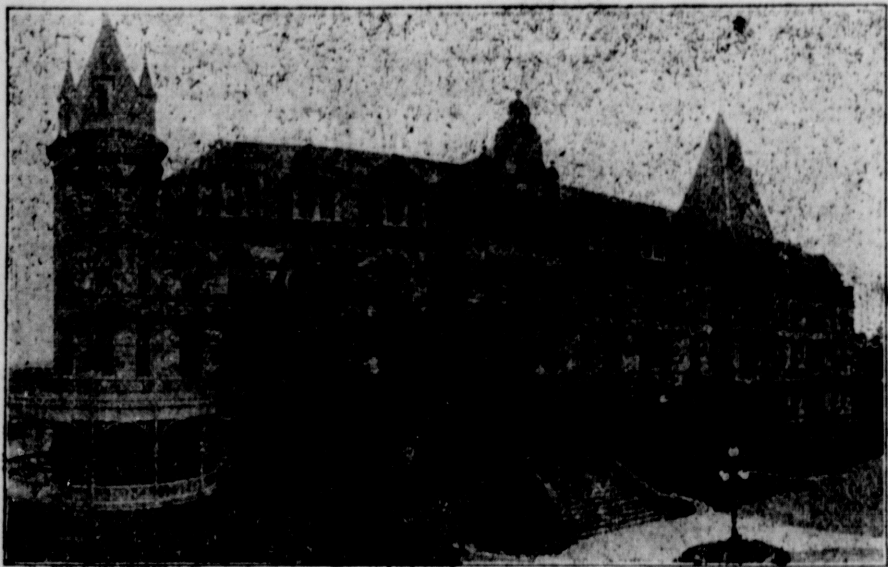

From the opening of the home in July, 1892, to December 31, 1923, 4,340 applicants have been admitted to the home. Any member of the I. T. U. who has been such for 10 years, three of which are continuous, is eligible for admission to the home. Members suffering from tuberculosis are eligible for admission at any time after 18 months' membership. Application for admission to the home must be made upon forms provided by the trustees, be endorsed by the local union with which the applicant is affiliated, and set forth his physical condition at date of application. If passed upon favorably by the admission committee, a certificate of admission is issued by the secretary of the board, which certificate must be presented to the superintendent by the applicant upon arrival at the home.

Management
The management of the institution (which will accommodate about 500), is in the hands of a superintendent, who acts under the direction of the board of trustees, one of whom is a resident of Colorado Springs. The superintendent's wife is the matron and is appointed by the president, with the concurrence of the trustees. The nurses and other employees, being selected by the superintendent, are directly under his supervision. The physicians are appointed by the board of trustees.

Everything possible is done by the board of trustees and the superintendent to make the residents of the home comfortable and happy. They are furnished with suitable food and clothing, medical attendance is provided, and the necessary care and attention is given to those who are confined to their rooms. Each resident receives a pension of $1 per week, and an additional allowance is given to those who assist in caring for the grounds or buildings.

Nothing was accomplished until the Denver convention of 1889, before which Louis R. Ehrich appeared and asked that the home be established in Colorado Springs, Colo. On behalf of the board of trade of this city, Mr. Ehrich offered to deed to the International Typographical Union eighty acres of land one mile east of Colorado Springs, conditioned:

That the I. T. U. would commence the erection of a home on said tract within two years, to cost not less than $20,000, and to be completed within one year from date of commencement.

Mr. Ehrich addressed the convention at length on the subject of locating the home at Colorado Springs.

At the conclusion of Mr. Ehrich's remarks, a resolution recommending "that a committee of three be appointed consisting of the president, second vice president and secretary-treasurer, to arrange the details, to formally accept the proposition, and to take such legal steps as may be necessary in connection therewith," was adopted.

Contributions from Members Solicited

At the Denver convention the sum of $21,689.45 was reported in the hands of the trustees of the fund. The convention having made no provisions for the raising of additional money to erect a home, an appeal for voluntary contributions, to be applied toward the building of the institution, was immediately issued to the members, in which it was stated that under the terms of the gift it would be necessary to commence the erection of a building by June, 1891. The appeal was responded to by many unions and members, and at the time of the meeting of the Atlanta convention in 1890, the contributions amounted to $4,199.55, which was turned over to the home corporation, the creation of which was authorized at this session.

Home Building Decided Upon

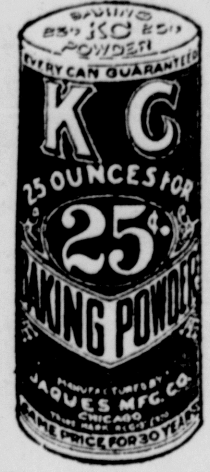

At a meeting of the board of trustees, on November 19, 1890, it was determined to build a $50,000 edifice, and a building committee was appointed to have charge of the work. On March 17, 1891, this committee awarded the contract for the main building at a cost of about $60,000.

The Dedication

May 12, 1892, the anniversary of the birthday of Geo. W. Childs, was set aside for the dedication of the home. The city of Colorado Springs was crowded with people from all parts of Colorado, and many distant points.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF UNION PRINTERS HOME

Devoted to the Care of Invalid, Aged and Infirm Members of the Organization

NOBLE AND UNIQUE INSTITUTION
Erected and Maintained by the International Typographical Union of North America

Editor's Note: The following article was furnished The Dispatch by Brainerd Typographical Union for the purpose of directing attention to the institution at Colorado Springs, Colo. Up to June, 1920, the union printers of the United States and Canada have expended over two and a quarter millions of dollars in establishing and maintaining this home for invalid, aged and infirm members of the organization. It is the only institution of its kind in the world.

In May, 1857, the first proposition to establish a home, or asylum, for invalid, aged or infirm union printers, was made to the National Typographical Union at its session in New Orleans, La. The proposition, however, did not meet with serious consideration and was dropped. Since then the question was renewed at numerous conventions of the International Typographical Union but no action taken until George W. Childs and A. J. Drexel presented the I. T. U. with a check for $10,000, at the 34th annual

The trades unions and civic societies joined in a monster parade through the city, after which they adjourned to the home, where the visitors were received by a committee of ladies from Denver and Colorado Springs. The exercises were held in the open space in front of the main building. Vice President Aimson, of the board of trustees, opened with a short address, and was followed by Rev. James B. Gregg with a fervent prayer of dedication. The Colorado Springs band and the Pueblo Cowboy band rendered several selections, after which Governor Rount, of Colorado, was introduced. His speech was brief but appropriate. Following him came Mayor Ira G. Sprague, of Colorado Springs, who delivered a short address, in which he paid a high tribute to the printer and his work, and extended a cordial welcome to all strangers present. James McKenna, first vice president of the I. T. U., responded to the mayor's address of welcome. The most conspicuous figure on the platform, Mr. George W. Childs, was then introduced. Cheers greeted his introduction and followed the conclusion of his talk. Leon Hartigan, a Creede printer, read a specially prepared poem by Eugene

the north end 90 by 50 feet. Porches extend from the wing to the south end of the building on the first and second stories, affording easy access to any part of the building from the rear. Each story contains a central hall the entire length of the building, every room opening into the main hallway, in addition to having outer windows. During the year 1914 the south wing of the main building was remodeled and is used exclusively for hospital purposes, giving 30 additional beds for afflicted residents. Sleeping porches were built on the east side of this portion of the building, so that patients may be placed in the open air when weather permits, which is practically all the time in the Colorado climate. In addition to these changes, an automatic electric elevator was installed for the convenience of the residents and visitors; also an automatic electric dumb waiter, for carrying trays to the patients on the various floors, was provided. The attic was remodeled and divided into 26 bright, sunny rooms, providing pleasant sleeping quarters for the female employees. The old-fashioned dormers were replaced by larger and more artistic ones, adding to the attractiveness of the building.

In 1917 the main building was further enlarged by the erection of a new addition. This addition has 35 sleeping rooms, those on the east side of the building being arranged with sleeping porches for patients who are required to remain in bed a considerable portion of the time. On the ground floor is located the general dining-room for sanatorium patients with a seating capacity for 170. Diet kitchens are located in convenient places on the upper floors and are used by nurses for preparing nourishment, palatable drinks, etc., for bed patients. East of and connecting with the main dining room is a large kitchen from which all food is served for sanatorium patients. This addition is well lighted and ventilated, and all fixtures and furnishings are the last word in sanitation. The exterior of the new addition is of material and design which conforms to the original main building.

Another addition, costing $300,000, which will increase the capacity of the home 50 per cent, is now under construction. Part of the addition will be a hospital annex completely equipped, including X-ray and surgical laboratories. In addition to the cost of the new buildings, $50,000 will be spent for hospital equipment. An entire new wing, including sun porches and sleeping rooms, will be added to the main building.

A broad stone stairway, protected by heavy balustrades, leads up to the massive archway to the portico. From the vestibule the open portals of the main entrance invite to spacious parlors, reception rooms and chambers on either side of the main hall. Above the portico, in the second-story cap course of sandstone, in raised Gothic letters, are the words, "Union Printers Home," while on either side, throughout the front elevation, suitable carving ornaments the exterior. The inside finish is of white pine, except the stairway, which is white oak, with carved panels. The building contains 190 rooms, the kitchens, pantries, cold-storage rooms, dining rooms, closets, store-rooms, etc., being on the basement floor.

The Sanatorium Building

Tuberculosis being one of the diseases to which printers are especially liable, it is not surprising that the ravages of this disease caused many to seek shelter and care at the home. COUNCIL ACTS ON PUNCH BOARDS

Holds Lively Discussion Over Illegal Practice of This Form of Gambling

SCHOOL BOYS IN POOL HALLS

Ordinance Drafted to Stop Students of Public Schools From Frequenting Such Places

The city council proceedings were greatly enlivened last night, it is said, when Alderman George Cain inquired if punch boards were not prohibited by law. To this the city attorney answered that they are prohibited, and Mr. Cain then asked why such boards were permitted. He stated that many people, not understanding that the mayor is the head of the police, were continually condemning the city council for permitting the continuance of these devices as well as other abuses. Other members of the council stated that they had the same experience and one alderman said, that his boy had been drawn into the punch board habit.

Chief of Police Harry Gaskill was quizzed and the council was convinced that the reform should start from the mayor. That the council might be released of blame, for which it was not responsible and to secure enforcement of the law, a motion was made by Alderman C. H. Paine, seconded by Alderman Cain that inasmuch as it is known that gambling is in force in the city, the mayor and police are instructed to close all gambling devices operating contrary to law. The motion carried unanimously and the council promised to back the police department to the limit in suppressing gambling in the city.

The matter of boys from the public schools of the city frequenting pool halls was also discussed and an ordinance was offered by Alderman Wesley, seconded by Alderman Ritari to the effect that no minor under the age of 18 years, nor any student of the public schools shall attend any public pool hall, and whoever shall violate this ordinance shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding $25, and may be imprisoned until such fine is paid, not exceeding ten days. This ordinance on motion was given its first reading.

Andrew Anderson appeared before the council in behalf of the Brainerd Municipal Band, and requested that a contract be entered into between the city of Brainerd and the band. On motion such a contract was authorized, and the proper officials instructed to execute it.

Mrs. John A. Peterson requested a permit to use tracts 9 and 10, Holland's third addition to the city of Brainerd, and tendered $5 for the rental of same. On motion her request was granted.

A representative of the Jewell Nursery Company of Lake City, addressed the council regarding the beautifying of the city hall grounds, showing plans and furnishing prices for this improvement. On motion the matter was referred to the property committee to make a definite report at the next regular meeting of the council.

F. E. Kinsmiller, representing the Brainerd Foundry Company, requested a contract to make mushroom lights for use at street intersections, agreeing to quote prices on frames only and also on the finished lights and to report to the street committee.

C. A. Stadlbauer requested permission to install and operate gasoline curb pump at his garage, 416 South Sixth street, tendering his check for $11.25 to cover the license, which on motion was granted.

CHARGED WITH METER TAMPERING

Jury Trial Demanded in Case by T. E. Jones, Defendant in Municipal Court

JURY OUT HOUR AND HALF

Returned Verdict of Guilty, Sentence of $25 or 20 Days Jail Imposed

T. E. Jones was tried in municipal court Monday afternoon, charged with interfering with the meter and diverting current before it passed through that instrument, at his home 401 North Broadway.

A jury trial was demanded, and the following jury drawn: Iver Holden, A. P. Drogseth, Ray Hall, Ritchie Warrick, E. P. Slipp and B. L. Lagerquist.

Evidence submitted in this case is as follows:

City presented facts showing that on September 7th, 1923, Archie Falconer, the meter reader in the employ of the Water & Light Board, went to the home of T. E. Jones on North Broadway, and according to his testimony saw Mr. Jones pull out two wires that had been connected in front of the meter and leading to an electric range; that he had no conversation with Mr. Jones at that time relative the same but reported the facts to Mr. McKay, Secretary of the Water & Light Board.

Mr. McKay testified that Mr. Jones came to his office but on account of the discrepancy as to the time, Mr. Zapffe placing the time prior to the date stated by Mr. McKay and Mr. Falconer, the court excluded any conversation Mr. Zapffe might have had with Mr. Jones.

The second charge presented by the City was that the Water & Light Board caused to be placed on a pole near the residence of Mr. Jones, a meter so wired that it registered the amount of current passing into the residence; that between January 11th, 1924, and February 18th, 1924, the meter on the pole registered 292 K. W. H. while the one in the residence for the same period registered 181 K. W. H.; that after checking the meters and having both meters tested and replaced, a later check was made and both registered equal amount of current.

Mr. Warlof, the employee of the Water & Light Board who has constructed the outside wiring jobs for the City, testified that such results could only be obtained from a change in the wiring.

In defense Mr. Jones testified that the date when Mr. Falconer entered his home and he had disconnected wires was not in September, 1923, but in the fall of 1922, and that he had disconnected the wires for the purpose of locating trouble which had caused two fuses to burn out. He further testified that he had never made any alterations or changes in the wiring system in his house.

Other persons residing in the home testified that they had never seen any alterations made or observed any changes in the wiring.

The jury, after being out about one hour and a half, returned the verdict of guilty.

The sentence given by Judge Warner was $25.00 or twenty (20) days in the city jail.

It is stated by members of the Water & Light Board that numerous meters have been installed in various parts of the city in order to make a complete check up on all current.

The charge as made against Mr. Jones was as follows: T. E. Jones did on or about the 15th day of February, 1924, did unlawfully and wilfully prevent an electric meter from duly registering and measuring the quantity of electricity supplied and did interfere with its proper action and just registration, and did without consent of the City of Brainerd, said City supplying, selling and distributing electricity and electric current to the said T. E. Jones, wilfully divert electric current and power of said City in such a way that the same did not pass through the said meter, in a manner unknown to the complainant.

COUNCIL ACTS ON PUNCH BOARDS

Holds Lively Discussion Over Illegal Practice of This Form of Gambling

SCHOOL BOYS IN POOL HALLS

Ordinance Drafted to Stop Students of Public Schools From Frequenting Such Places

The city council proceedings were greatly enlivened last night, it is said, when Alderman George Cain inquired if punch boards were not prohibited by law. To this the city attorney answered that they are prohibited, and Mr. Cain then asked why such boards were permitted. He stated that many people, not understanding that the mayor is the head of the police, were continually condemning the city council for permitting the continuance of these devices as well as other abuses. Other members of the council stated that they had the same experience and one Alderman said, that his boy had been drawn into the punch board habit.

Chief of Police Harry Gaskill was quizzed and the council was convinced that the reform should start from the mayor. That the council might be released of blame, for which it was not responsible and to secure enforcement of the law, a motion was made by Alderman C. H. Paine seconded by Alderman Cain that inasmuch as it is known that gambling is in force in the city, the mayor and police are instructed to close all gambling devices operating contrary to law. The motion carried unanimously and the council promised to back the police department to the limit in suppressing gambling in the city.

The matter of boys from the public schools of the city frequenting pool halls was also discussed and an ordinance was offered by Alderman Wesley, seconded by Alderman Ritari to the effect that no minor under the age of 18 years, nor any student of the public schools shall attend any public pool hall, and whoever shall violate this ordinance shall upon conviction be punished by a fine not exceeding $25, and may be imprisoned until such fine is paid, not exceeding ten days. This ordinance on motion was given its first reading.

Andrew Anderson appeared before the council in behalf of the Brainerd Municipal Band, and requested that a contract be entered into between the city of Brainerd and the band. On motion such a contract was authorized, and the proper officials instructed to execute it.

Mrs. John A. Peterson requested a permit to use tracts 9 and 10, Holland's third addition to the city of Brainerd, and tendered $5 for the rental of same. On motion her request was granted.

A representative of the Jewell Nursery Company of Lake City, addressed the council regarding the beautifying of the city hall grounds, showing plans and furnishing prices for this improvement. On motion the matter was referred to the property committee to make a definite report at the next regular meeting of the council.

F. E. Kinsmiller, representing the Brainerd Foundry Company, requested a contract to make mushroom lights for use at street intersections, agreeing to quote prices on frames only and also on the finished lights and to report to the street committee.

C. A. Stadlbauer requested permission to install and operate gasoline curb pump at his garage, 416 South Sixth street, tendering his check for $11.25 to cover the license, which on motion was granted.

FANNING WITH ARRELL

SIX BASEBALL MANAGERS BAN GOLF

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, March 18.—Miller Huggins, John McGraw, Ty Cobb, Frank Chance, Branch Rickey and Clarke Griffith have decreed that their ball players must not indulge in golf during the baseball season.

The two champion clubs, Detroit, the White Sox, the Cards and Washington are quite an array to be lined up against Col. Bogey, but McGraw says it is only a matter of time when the managers of all the major league clubs will ask the players to do their golfing before and after the baseball season starts.

McGraw contends that golf gets too much of a hold on its addicts and that baseball players, who become infected, frequently think more of improving their driving or their short game than they do of boosting their batting average.

The Giant manager also expresses the rather original thought that golf does not hurt a baseball player when he is a good golfer, but that it has a bad effect upon a duffer who has to take more exercise and expend more energy going around the course.

There are some crack golfers among the major league players. Arnold Stutz of the Cubs and Pep Young of the Giants are among the best, and Babe Ruth is no slouch. But if McGraw's idea, that only the good players should be allowed to indulge in the game, were carried out, it would mean practically a blanket ban on the game.

Miller Huggins has been against golf playing for a long time. It was humorously remarked that because Miller took a couple of hundred to go around, when he first took up the game, he soured on it. Huggins, however, claimed last year that some of his pitchers were working out so much in the morning with their mashies and putters that they had nothing left when they were called upon to swing on the mound.

During the mid-season last year, Huggins had to call on Carl Mays for relief work, after Mays had played thirty-six holes of golf, and Carl didn't feel like pitching. He got in bad early in the game, and Huggins made him stick it out and take a terrible beating.

TUNNEY DEFENDS HIS TITLE SUCCESSFULLY AGAINST DELANEY

DELANEY WENT GOOD BY A SMALL MARGIN UNTIL THE FIFTH ROUND

THEN TUNNEY SOCKED HIS LEFT EYE WITH A VICIOUS SWIPE

(By United Press)
St. Paul, March 18.—Gene Tunney, lightweight champion of America, successfully defended his title against Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul, in a ten-round no-decision bout last night.

Delaney gave a good account of himself, carrying the bout by a small margin up to the fifth round when Tunney cut his left eye with a vicious swipe.

Plainly it was all Tunney's fight, although Delaney made it mighty interesting in spots. Delaney did his best one in the second round, when he hit Tunney with a right below the heart.

At the end of this round, Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, told him, "All you have to do is keep from getting knocked out. You don't have to lick him."

WILL BAR TILDEN IF HE CONTINUES AS TENNIS SCRIBE

New York, March 18.—It William T. Tilden, champion tennis player, insists on writing for papers after Jan. 1, 1925, he will be declared ineligible to compete as an amateur, the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association said this afternoon.

The vote of the association was taken after Tilden had appeared and asked them how he stood. He had taken the position that he was a newspaper reporter before the rule was passed and the rule should not be applied to him.

The action of the committee resulted in a rather indirect statement that while the committee cannot vote on Tilden's case until 1925 it will vote against him if the facts of his case are the same as now.

Tilden though his position is "generally known" presumably referring to statements he made recently that he would choose the writing game if he had to decide between writing and playing tennis.

CONFESSES BEATING AND KILLING WIFE

(By United Press)
Denver, March 18.—Fred Janssen today confessed he beat his wife to death and placed her body in a trunk in which it was discovered at Ogden, Utah.

At first Janssen said he hired a Mexican to do the killing, but later assumed full blame for the crime.

Elmer R. Dower, former assistant secretary of the treasury.

Alfred R. Urion and Henry K. Urion, Washington attorneys.

A. R. Johnson, Jr., assistant attorney general.

H. H. Votaw, superintendent of prisoners and head of the parole board of the department of justice, whose wife is a sister of the late President Harding.

James A. Finch, pardon clerk, department of justice.

Arthur Robb, chief file clerk, department of justice.

Henry W. Anderson, special assistant attorney general and trustee pending dissolution of the packers association.

Alan J. Pickering, army air service.

A. C. Steward, Washington.

When the hearing opened today, Senator Wheeler put on the witness stand Will Orr, New York, whose previous testimony connected with the plan to distribute the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films.

Tex Rickard, who was interested in the Dempsey-Carpenter fight films, was one of the first witnesses to arrive.

Orr said he was not in the insurance business in New York, and has been secretary to ex-Governor Whitman.

Orr denied that Jesse Smith had any interest in the fight film contract, and denied he had ever had any business relations with Smith.

"What was your interest in the pictures?" asked Wheeler.

"I had a twenty per cent interest."

"What did you do for that interest?"

Orr explained that he gave his services in connection with censorship and publicity, and after Quinby and Rickard were fighting for exhibiting pictures in New York he arranged exhibits elsewhere.

"Didn't you know it was illegal to ship the pictures?" Wheeler asked.

"Yes."

"You raised about $35,000 in New York by the front porch campaign at Marion, didn't you?"

"I raised something like that?"

"You raised some money before the convention for the national republican committee, didn't you?"

"About $10,000."

"Who for?"

"Will Hayes and Colonel William Boyce Thompson."

"And after the convention you raised a considerable sum for the campaign and forwarded it over to Daugherty, didn't you?"

"I raised some money, but I can't say as to paying it to other cabinet members."

"Did you get any money from Harry Sinclair?" asked Senator Brookhart.

"No I never saw him."

"After the inauguration you saw Daugherty often here, didn't you?" Wheeler resumed.

"Yes."

"You met Howard Manington?"

"Yes."

"You said you went to see some New York censorship commissioners. Who were they?"

"Cobb and Livingston."

Orr said he went to see the commissioners after Quinby had been arrested for showing the pictures before the veterans' organization on Staten Island.

"Who else did you see?"

"I can't remember."

When pressed by Wheeler, Orr said he would have to refresh his memory as he did not want to "drag in" any one's name whom he did not see.

"Yes, you want to go back to New York and check up your story," said Wheeler.

SPECULATED IN OIL

Washington, March 18.—The president's secretary, the attorney general, two senators and four congressmen speculated in Sinclair and Doheny oil stocks before and after the government signed over its naval oil reserve to those big interests. This was the revelation made before the Teapot Dome committee today by Lewis Bond, accounting expert, who completed a month's examination of brokers' books and submitted his reports today when the investigation was resumed.

C. Bascom Slemp, secretary to President Coolidge, and Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty headed the list. Both of them had their accounts turned over to other names shortly after the Doheny and Sinclair stocks were purchased.

Where Judges Get Little

Austrian judges are the most poorly paid of all state officials. Those holding the chief positions, and most highly qualified, receive only 3,000,000 crowns a month—not much more than $40, and this after from twenty-five to thirty years' service. So poor, in fact, are some of the judges that they cannot afford to buy their official robes or talars, and preside in court in the shabbiest clothing. The state is supposed to furnish them with talars, but has not done so for the last two years. Letter carriers, railway men, policemen all receive their uniforms free, but the judges must find their own or go without.

Uncle Robert on Scouting

"Uncle Robert" Sperry, deer of numerous good turns to the sick, shut-ins and poor of New York, is a particular admirer of the scout spirit. "The boy scout movement, with its code of service, unselfishness and respect for the rights and beliefs of others," he has recently stated, "has proved an inspiring interpretation of the great ideal, 'Peace on earth, good-will to men.'"

LOVE BRINGS ELECTRIC LIGHTS

(By United Press)

Kasan, Tartar Republic, March 18.—Progress sometimes comes in queer ways. Ali Mukhter was madly in love with Fatima, in an adjoining village. In the olden days he would have grabbed her, thrown her on a horse and escaped with her. In 1924, he went to her father's home and asked for her hand. The father told him the Tartar equivalent: "I won't give my daughter to a man who lives in a miserable hut in a village where there is not even an electric light."

All went out in advance of the parental foot, but became an agitator not against the Government, but for electric lights.

The Kasan Government is now working steadily toward the completion of the work of electrifying the Russian village. The number of villages with electric lights in the peasants' huts is rapidly increasing.

AUSTRIA, HUNGARY MAY BE BARRED FROM TENNIS PLAY

New York, March 18.—Because Hungary and Austria are listed as enemy nations in the existing tennis code, the challenges of the two nations for the Davis cup may have to be rejected by the United States Tennis association.

The association was waiting today for response from all nations which have actually competed for the cup and were asked to vote on the acceptance of the challenges. Two-thirds vote will be necessary to admit Austria and Hungary to the competition.

The executive committee of the association in meeting here this afternoon voted in favor of accepting the challenge.

A man is said to be "art and part" of a crime when he assists the manner of the deed and concurs with and encourages those who commit the crime, although he does not put his own hand to the actual execution of it.

GANNING WITH FARRELL

SIX BASEBALL MANAGERS BAN GOLF

By HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor

New York, March 18.—Miller Huggins, John McGraw, Ty Cobb, Frank Chance, Branch Rickey and Clarke Griffith have decreed that their ball players must not indulge in golf during the baseball season.

The two champion clubs, Detroit, the White Sox, the Cards and Washington are quite an array to be lined up against Col. Bogey, but McGraw says it is only a matter of time when the managers of all the major league clubs will ask the players to do their golfing before and after the baseball season starts.

McGraw contends that golf gets too much of a hold on its addicts and that baseball players, who become infected, frequently think more of improving their driving or their short game than they do of boosting their batting average.

The Giant manager also expresses the rather original thought that golf does not hurt a baseball player when he is a good golfer, but that it has a bad effect upon a duffer who has to take more exercise and expend more energy going around the course.

There are some crack golfers among the major league players. Arnold Statz of the Cubs and Pep Young of the Giants are among the best, and Babe Ruth is no slouch. But if McGraw's idea, that only the good players should be allowed to indulge in the game, were carried out, it would mean practically a blanket ban on the game.

Miller Huggins has been against golf playing for a long time. It was humorously remarked that because Miller took a couple of hundred to go around, when he first took up the game, he soured on it. Huggins, however, claimed last year that some of his pitchers were working out so much in the morning with their mashies and putters that they had nothing left when they were called upon to swing on the mound.

During the mid-season last year, Huggins had to call on Carl Mays for relief work, after Mays had played thirty-six holes of golf, and Carl didn't feel like pitching. He got in bad early in the game, and Huggins made him stick it out and take a terrible beating.

TUNNEY DEFENDS HIS TITLE SUCCESSFULLY AGAINST DELANEY

DELANEY WENT GOOD BY A SMALL MARGIN UNTIL THE FIFTH ROUND

THEN TUNNEY SOCKED HIS LEFT EYE WITH A VICIOUS SWIPE

(By United Press)

St. Paul, March 18.—Gene Tunney, lightweight champion of America, successfully defended his title against Jimmy Delaney, St. Paul, in a ten-round no-decision bout last night.

Delaney gave a good account of himself, carrying the bout by a small margin up to the fifth round when Tunney cut his left eye with a vicious swipec.

Plainly it was all Tunney's fight, although Delaney made it mighty interesting in spots. Delaney did his best one in the second round, when he hit Tunney with a right below the heart.

At the end of this round, Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, told him, "All you have to do is keep from getting knocked out. You don't have to lick him."

WILL BAR TILDEN IF HE CONTINUES AS TENNIS SCRIBE

New York, March 18.—It William T. Tilden, champion tennis player, insists on writing for papers after Jan. 1, 1925, he will be declared ineligible to compete as an amateur, the executive committee of the United States Lawn Tennis association said this afternoon.

The vote of the association was taken after Tilden had appeared and asked them how he stood. He had taken the position that he was a newspaper reporter before the rule was passed and the rule should not be applied to him.

The action of the committee resulted in a rather indirect statement that while the committee cannot vote on Tilden's case until 1925 it will vote against him if the facts of his case are the same as now.

Tilden though his position is "generally known" presumably referring to statements he made recently that he would choose the writing game if he had to decide between writing and playing tennis.

AUSTRIA, HUNGARY MAY BE BARRED FROM TENNIS PLAY

New York, March 18.—Because Hungary and Austria are listed as enemy nations in the existing tennis code, the challenges of the two nations for the Davis cup may have to be rejected by the United States Tennis association.

The association was waiting today for response from all nations which have actually competed for the cup and were asked to vote on the acceptance of the challenges. Two-thirds vote will be necessary to admit Austria and Hungary to the competition.

The executive committee of the association in meeting here this afternoon voted in favor of accepting the challenge.

"Art and Part." "Art and part" is a Scotch law phrase, meaning an accessory before and after the fact. A man is said to do "art and part" of a crime when he survives the manner of the deed and concurs with and encourages those who commit the crime, although he does not put his own hand to the actual execution of it.
